

POSTAL TELEGRAPH AND POSTAL SAVINGS.

At the last session of Congress Senator Edmunds introduced a bill providing for the establishment of a postal telegraph system in this country. The bill was referred to the committee on post offices and post roads, but on account of the pressure of business the question was not brought up in the senate for discussion. When Mr. Edmunds introduced the new bill he requested that the matter be considered as speedily as possible by the committee so that a vote on the bill could be reached fairly in the session.

For many years the question of postal telegraph has been before congress. When the late C. C. Washburn was a member of the house he introduced a bill on that subject, but the bill failed of a passage. Since then several similar attempts have been made to adopt postal telegraph, but congress has never been in sympathy with the movement, and either voted down the bills or the committee failed to make timely reports upon them.

The objects of Mr. Edmunds' bill is to connect the principal post offices in the United States by telegraph. These lines will be under control of the government, and messages will be transmitted and delivered as expeditiously as by the corporate lines. An investigation of the subject during the last congress showed that messages could be transmitted much cheaper than by the present system, and with much more convenience to the public. The system has been thoroughly tested in England, and in every respect gives satisfaction.

It is a humiliating fact that the progress of our postal system is less marked than that of the English system. In the transmission of all mail matter the American system is as perfect and reliable as that of any other country, but in regard to postal telegraph and postal savings banks we are far behind the times. The greatest postal genius of the age was Henry Fawcett, the blind postmaster general of England. He adopted the postal telegraph system in that country, and it proved a remarkable success. He then secured the aid of parliament in the establishment of postal savings banks, and these have proved one of the crowning features of postal progress in Great Britain. So popular has this system become that three million depositors have deposited not far from $200,000,000 in the postal banks. When it had been demonstrated that postal savings banks were a great public convenience and remarkably successful in the United Kingdom, Italy and Belgium, and even Japan, adopted them, and in these countries they have not been less successful than in Great Britain. They do not interfere with the business of commercial banks, so that no objection to their establishment can come from that direction. The annual interest allowed to depositors in England is 2 1/2 per cent. per annum. The bill on the subject introduced into the house of representatives in 1879, provided for an annual interest of 3 1/2 per cent.

Reports from Washington say that another effort will be made in congress this winter to adopt the postal savings system. The subject is well worth the sober attention of congress, and it is hoped that neither this matter nor the postal telegraph bill will be thrown aside to make room and time for partisan legislation.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN BLUSTER.

It was natural for the people to await with interest the appearance of the president's first message and the reports of his several cabinet and bureau officers, who have been rigidly examining the books and looking through the departmental records and reports upon the correct deeds of their predecessors. These documents are now made public, and persons who gave any credit to the campaign charges of the democrats last year must feel a good deal relieved to find that the affairs of the nation are after all in a tolerably healthy condition. No defalcations have been disclosed; in general it is discovered that the business of the several departments has been conducted faithfully and systematically, and most of the recommendations of the president are borrowed from his republican predecessors. — Milwaukee Sentinel.

Yes, there has been literally no end to the talk of the democratic and democratic orators in regard to the mismanagement of the public funds by the republican administration. All the democrats wanted to do was to get hold of the books of the treasury, and then a tale would be unfolded which would startle the country. They had a good deal to say about the departments being "housecleaned with fraud," about false entries being made on the books of the treasury department, and about extravagance running riot in every department of the government. Another thing that troubled the democrats was the large amount of revenues collected which they claimed were useless, and were intended only for the trusts that were being protected by the republican in power. And then the treasury stories were told about the four hundred million dollars of a surplus which was allowed to remain on hand in the treasury, when it should be either applied to the payment of the public debt or in some way scattered among the people.

The democrats got possession of the books of the treasury, and much to their surprise there was not a cent missing, and not a shadow of a fraud could be detected. They are beginning to find out, much to their dismay, that the republican administration was cleared of extravagance, that the four hundred millions were legitimately and properly held in the treasury, and that the revenues were not greater than an economical administration of the government warranted.

In a political sense there is something quite funny in the way things are turning out at Washington. The secretary of the treasury has made his report. It comes from one who joined in the cry for less revenues and a less expenditure of public money. Without any change in the tariff laws the aggregate revenues will become $315,000,000 for the next year, while Mr. Manning estimates the expenditures for the same time will be $34,000,000 greater than for last year! This is the way the present administration is marching on toward retrenchment and reform. This is not a very favorable showing for the party which did so much howling for less revenues and less expenditures.

THE PENSIONING OF OLD SOLDIERS.

Congressman Price, of this state, introduced in the last session of congress a bill to pension all the living soldiers and sailors who took part in the war of the rebellion. It was so sweeping in its provision that congress refused to pass the bill. Not daunted by the failure of the bill in the last congress, Mr. Price has announced his intention of making another effort to get the bill through. The bill has the hearty support of a majority of the old soldiers of the late war but whether congress will have the courage to pass it is a question.

The proposition of Mr. Price is to pay the survivors of the late war eight dollars per month during life, the pension to begin from the passage of the act. Just how much this would require can hardly be estimated, for as yet there are no official figures showing the number of old soldiers now living. According to the recent state census there are 29,658 in Wisconsin. Mr. Price's bill would give them $2,965,800 a year in the aggregate. It is roughly estimated that there are about 600,000 federal survivors of the war of the rebellion, and taking this as a basis of calculation, something like $60,000,000 would be required to pay all the pensioners of the Union during the first year of the law. Should those who are now drawing pensions be excluded from the provisions of the bill the aggregate amount would be reduced by eight or ten millions.

Mr. Price purposes to make a vigorous fight for the passage of his favorite bill this session, but contemplating an additional outlay of forty or fifty million dollars may so terrify congress that it will again vote it down.

Only a few weeks ago President Cleveland said he would thank republican senators if they would advise him of objections they found against any man he had appointed to office. It is a fact worthy of note that the president has never said as much as that to democratic senators.

The democratic administration asks for $30,000,000 more money to carry on the government than sufficed for the republican administration last year. — Philadelphia Press.

Hue! This is a business administration, and let us see what the reform how will hatch out.

Attorney General Garland urges the building of a national penitentiary and construction of a jail at each place where federal courts are held. In this the attorney general is wise.

The worst slap General Logan ever gave the democrats was when he refused to accept the presidency of the senate.

Looking at the thermometer one would suppose that Charles Francis Adams was lingering in the northwest.

Senator Edmunds is worth about $500,000, and most of it has been made during the past fifteen years.

It is hoped that the congressional session will not be as long as the president's message.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Mrs. Julia Newberry, the widow of the late John L. Newberry, of this city, died at Paris Wednesday night. In his will Mr. Newberry provided that if any of his daughters died without issue, at the time of her death, her estate should be divided, one-half to be distributed among the descendants of his own brother and sisters, and one-half to be applied to found a public library in the north division of Chicago. The estate is valued at $50,000, and $25,000 will now be available for the library. The other half of the estate to be distributed will enrich some of the daughters, prominent among whom is Congressman John Newberry, of Detroit.

Christianity Not on the Decline.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—The interdenominational congress, which opened Tuesday morning, a paper was read by Rev. Dr. Kuntler, of Pittsburgh, on "A Religious Conviction." His paper was bristling with facts and figures, showing that statistics compared with the alleged decline of Christianity is on the decline. In 1850, of a population of 50,000,000 of people, 10,000,000 were communicants; that is, one out of every five in the country. He said that with an animated and soul-stirring appeal to the audience, which was heartily cheered.

MARK AND MURKIN.

DESPERATE DOINGS AT PENNSYLVANIA COAL PITS.

"Blacklegs" Attacked by a Mob and Daily Beaten—Several Severely Injured—Attempt to Kill the Superintendent by Ditching a Train.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 11.—There was another riot Thursday among the striking coal-miners along the Monongahela river, resulting in fatal injuries to several non-union workmen. The riot occurred at the Fine Run mine, owned and operated by James Lynn & Son, located in the second pool, three miles above McKeesport. For two weeks seventy non-union men have been at work here for 25 cents per bushel. At 5 o'clock in the morning 150 strikers, wearing masks and arrayed in grotesque costumes, started out from their rendezvous near the mine. Half a mile below the mine they met Newton Campbell, a driver, on his way to work. He refused to return home "when ordered," whereupon he was knocked down, kicked and trampled on, and then left unconscious. He was found several hours afterward, conscious, but still unable to rid himself. The desperate strikers marched on toward the mine, where they met fifteen non-union men on their road to work. The latter wisely retreated and disappeared. Another squad of workmen appeared, and they were commanded to return home.

Richard Hall, more bold than his fellows, defied the masked strikers and attempted to block the mine. The engine started for the strikers, but Hall kept on his way. Then one of the masked men rushed at him with a club and struck a blow at his head, but the club fell upon his shoulder. He was partly stunned by the blow, but managed to get back to his comrades, who left at once for the residence of Superintendent James O'Neil. The strikers also assaulted and beat Samuel Marford and James DeFord. The pit boss William Marford, was also attacked by the ruffians and knocked down.

The superintendent and a number of men, on being informed of the action of the strikers, boarded an engine and started for the scene of trouble. When the strikers saw the smoke rising from the little locomotive they ran down the track yelling like fiends, and opened several switches and blocked the track. The engine was thrown from the track and wrecked, but the passengers escaped injury. Mr. O'Neil, surprised at such a large body of men, offered no resistance. The strikers celebrated their victory with a yell and disappeared almost as suddenly as they had come.

Later in the day fifty non-union men entered the mine, and continued their work without interruption. Word was sent to Sheriff Gray, who went to the mine with a posse, arriving there at 10 o'clock. All was quiet, however, and the sheriff's force returned to this city. The posse is ready to return to the mine at a moment's notice. About twenty of the striking miners, notwithstanding their masks, were recognized.

A RAILWAY IN BAD LUCK.

Two Bridges Gone—Close Call for an Express—One Man Killed.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Dec. 11.—A serious accident occurred Thursday morning on the New Brunswick railroad. Not having obtained in time sufficient iron frames to complete the new bridge over both branches over the Aroostook river, wooden frames were used until the bridge could be operated. As a result of this, a freight train bound east was thrown into the river by the collapse of the trestle over the north branch. All the trainmen escaped except the fireman, Richard Smith, of St. John, who went down with the engine. The engineer was injured internally in jumping from the car.

An hour later the express, bound west, after crossing the south branch, was signalled just in time to prevent it going over the wrecked bridge. The train was then ordered back to the last station it had passed, where it was discovered that the bridge over the south branch had been swept away by the flood, caused by heavy rains. The trainmen reported that the bridge had fallen through minutes after the express crossed. The express is now between two floods. The water is rising rapidly and there is no way of reaching the passengers. It is hoped that the banks will hold. The storm was very severe and the snow melting causes the river to rise.

Trial of an Erling Banker.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Benjamin T. O. Hubbard, the cashier of the Monmouth Life National bank, who is charged with embezzling $115,000 of the bank's cash, was brought to trial before Judge Blodgett Thursday. The important witnesses were Bank Examiner Oakley who described how Hubbard covered up his accounts, and also how some of the directors had notes on deposit in the bank for large sums, all of which he thought fraudulent. Hubbard, who testified that he had admitted to him that he had taken the money, but promised to make it good by turning over all his securities. He also said he had lost money in board of trade speculation.

Canada Asks for Two New Satellites.

MONTREAL, Dec. 11.—The authorities of the Roman Catholic church here have taken the first step toward applying to Rome for the canonization of the late Archbishop Bourget. In making public the alleged miracle he performed during his life, Thursday's Presse contains the declaration of two women taken under oath testifying to the healing powers of the late prelate. The appeal to Rome to canonize the late Archbishop has not yet been granted, and a special court with three secretaries is now sitting in Quebec taking testimony.

The Unholy Ghost of Shoemakers. CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—The shoe cutters are not heeding the mandates of the Knights of Labor. It is understood that the cutters organization has ordered the strikers to return to work and that the executive committee of the Knights of Labor will investigate matters. The order was to be carried out Thursday. The shoe cutters met Wednesday night and resolved not to go back.

Give Notice of It to Court.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Veterinary Surgeon H. J. McHugh walked into police headquarters Thursday and said that he had just swallowed ten grains of morphine. He said that he took the dose with ethical intention. He was supposed to be a cure for opiate and cold in head, and the veteran had become addicted to drinking.

Death of the Harvard Librarian.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 11.—John Langdon Sibbey, the veteran librarian of Harvard university, whose health has been for two years very precarious, is dead. He was born in Union, Me., in 1834, and has been connected with Harvard library since his graduation in 1851, except four years, when he essayed preaching.

Edmunds Brings up the Postal Telegraph Scheme Again—Speculation on the House Rules—Advancing the President—Grant Monument.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Edmunds moved in the Senate today his bill of last session for the establishment of a postal telegraph, and said he was now in favor of purchasing existing telegraph plants at their actual value, not counting their water stock. The bill was referred. A resolution was agreed to directing the payment from the senate contingent fund of the actual and necessary expenses of Gen. Grant's funeral. A batch of nominations containing several names was received from the president. A joint resolution of the New Jersey legislature, recommending the utilization of Alaska as a penal colony, was presented and referred.

Delphi introduced a bill to repeal the law of last session providing for the settlement of claims of officers and enlisted men of the army for loss of private property destroyed in the military service, and had read from the report of the secretary of war, the statement concerning the difficulty experienced in its interpretation. Claims had been presented for the loss of clothing of a family of six, and of a horse, and of a cow, destroyed in the great Chicago fire, and another for the loss of two gold watches. Quite a discussion was had on the subject. Coolidge and Hendricks saying the law was not at all difficult of interpretation and Logan thinking it was.

Voorhes introduced a bill to repeal the limitation in the act of pensions upon land and Wilson of Iowa one to appropriate $150,000 for an international peace convention to be held in Washington. The senate then adjourned until Monday.

The House Rules.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The Democratic members will hold a caucus on the question of the change in the house rules, in order to act in harmony. It is only a little more than a year since the house, upon landing upon the vote of those who are now the caucus on the Morrison tariff bill was upon Mr. Randall and his friends. The Democratic members will hold a caucus on the question of the change in the house rules, in order to act in harmony. It is only a little more than a year since the house, upon landing upon the vote of those who are now the caucus on the Morrison tariff bill was upon Mr. Randall and his friends.

Logan and the Committee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The statement circulated Wednesday that a Republican senatorial caucus had been held and it had been arranged to restore Gen. Logan to the chairmanship of the military committee, Gen. Sewell having agreed to accept in exchange the chairmanship of the library committee, is not only premature, but it is entirely untrue. The military committee is considering the matter, but has not yet reported. The latest information from Gen. Sewell is that he will not consent to give up his chairmanship of the library committee, and if he should be moved it will have to be by violence. Gen. Logan said to one of his senatorial friends Thursday, that he would not consent to give up his chairmanship of the library committee, and if he should be moved it will have to be by violence.

G. A. B. Memorial to Grant.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—A general order from Gen. Grant, the headquarters of the Grand Army of the Republic in this city, informing the members of that organization that Washington has been selected as the site of the proposed Grand Army of the Republic national encampment, and that the various posts are requested to prepare rolls containing the name, rank, regiment, and post of each donor, which, when returned to national headquarters, will be used in the preparation of a proper roll of honor, and provision made to furnish each post a lithographic or other suitable form of engraving of the finished monument. The headquarters has been directed to prepare a roll of honor, and provision made to furnish each post a lithographic or other suitable form of engraving of the finished monument.

Prices Paid for Grain.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—A comparison of prices for grain at the farm is made in the report of the agricultural department, in which it is shown that corn is lower in price this year for December by an average of 10 cents per bushel against 1884, and 25 cents last year. The lowest prices is paid in Nebraska, where it is 10 cents the figure and the highest in New York, where it brings 55 cents. Wheat is about last year's average, the average price being 75 cents per bushel against 70 cents in 1884 and 65 cents in 1885. For two years past, however, farm values have been low. Rye is 4 cents higher than last year, barley 7 cents, potatoes 5 cents, oats show no change and hay is 45 cents per ton higher.

A number of petitions have been received here from farmers in Iowa declaring that New York capitalists are attempting to increase the value of debts by the repeal of the silver law, and asking congress to refuse to so repeal it.

The Joke Appears To Be on Sherman.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The Democratic senators are having a good deal of fun among themselves at the expense of John Sherman. Mr. Sherman recently wrote a letter to a Dakota man, who complained of Land Commissioner Spaulding's administration, in which the Ohio senator promised to inquire into the matter, and if Mr. Sparks had not acted fairly, to oppose his confirmation. Mr. Sherman was interviewed about the charges Wednesday night, and reiterated his determination to fight Sparks' confirmation if they were true. What amuses the Democrats is the fact that Sparks was confirmed on the 20th of last March, and although the Ohio Senator was here at the time, he is now yet discovered that he assisted in getting the commissioner in office.

Two Western Waterways.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Senator Conger, Thursday, introduced several bills that were pending in the last congress. One of these authorized the secretary of war to acquire the purchase of a Portage lake and Lake Superior ship canal, but does not fix any price to be paid or appropriate any sum of money. Two others provide for more light-boats on western rivers, and for an increase of one in the number of light-house districts. The latter bill is doubtless intended to separate Lakes Michigan and Superior into a new district, but the bill does not so specify.

Promotion of International Peace.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The bill introduced in the senate Thursday by Wilson of Iowa, to promote peace among nations, authorizes the president to enter into negotiations with other governments with a view to the formation of an international tribunal for the arbitration of any disputes that may occur among nations, and requests him to invite other nations to send delegates to a proposed international peace convention to be held in Washington at such time as he may fix, and appropriate $150,000 for this purpose.

Objection to a Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Senator Callahan and Congressman Furness, on Wednesday, introduced a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the appointment of postmasters, and to provide for the removal of any postmaster who may be found to be incompetent or dishonest, and to provide for the removal of any postmaster who may be found to be incompetent or dishonest.

Some More Accounts Discovered.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Second Comptroller of the Treasury Maynard has rendered an opinion to the effect that in court-martial trials there is no law to justify allowing "expert witnesses" an increased number of witnesses over ordinary witnesses. After laying down this principle, he rejects quite a number of accounts forwarded from the war department.

Land Office Register Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The president has appointed C. F. M. Niles to be register of the land office at Garden City, Kan., vice H. C. Myton, suspended.

Belgium Modifies Her Position.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Belgium has informed the state department of her desire to enter the Latin union. Hitherto she has refrained from joining it.

BLOODY BUTCHERY IN ITALY.

A Man Cut to Pieces and His Blood Spilled.

ROME, Dec. 11.—This city is seething with excitement over the trial which was begun Thursday of a whole family charged with one of the most revolting murders in the whole history of crime. The prisoners are a husband named Tosti, his wife, and his daughter. The victim was a rival butcher named Poggi. The motives of the murder were trade jealousy and family disputes. Poggi was entangled into a quarrel with Tosti, and the first started with a knife on the head. Then his throat was cut and while he was dying he was held over a tub into which his blood flowed. Tosti and his sons then turned the body into small pieces and the fragments were scattered in a suburban forest, the whole family assisting in this work. The murdered man's blood was afterward ladled into black puddings which were sold in Tosti's shop. Tosti's son made a full confession and narrated the horrible story to the court with a cool-headed cynicism, which provoked the fury of all who heard him. The audience yelled: "Away with him to the scaffold!" the murmur of his sentence was loudly repeated: "I am here. Tear me to pieces!"

Official Report of Vanderbilt's Death.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—At 11 a. m., Thursday Deputy Coroner Dr. Justin Heald made an official examination of the body of the late William H. Vanderbilt. The face, head and body were requested, due to the corruption having taken place in the lateral ventricles of the brain, thence into the fourth ventricle of the brain, causing stoppage of respiration, the heart continuing to pump the blood vessels of the head and face, resulting in the scarlet color of the features. The official report fixes the cause of death as cerebral apoplexy. No autopsy will be performed, as it is regarded entirely unnecessary.

Asking for Duty on Foreign Tobacco.

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 11.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the New England Tobacco Growers' association, in this city, Thursday, a resolution was passed to ask congress to establish a 2.50 per pound duty on all foreign tobacco imported into the United States.

Mismanaged the Purcell Estate.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 11.—J. B. Mannix, appeared before Judge Gehl of the probate court Thursday morning charged with misappropriation of the funds of the estate of Archibald Purcell. He acknowledged the charge to be true and tendered his resignation as executor, and turned over to Governor Hendricks and E. W. Kidder what is remaining of the Purcell estate, including $100,000. The whole amount is $18,000.

OF ALL BLOOD CLEANSERS DR. RICHMOND'S SAMARITAN NERVE is the safest. There is no disease arising from depravation of the blood which it will not speedily cure. Its judicious use brings healthy blood and healthy habits across the rusty cheeks, the haggard eyes, the healthy man. So we hope that by this prudent use each and all of our many thousands of patrons may forever be healthy, happy and hungry. Sold by Kroetsch & Evenson.

KINGLETS AT WAR AGAIN.

MILAN GETS TIRED OF NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE.

And Concludes to Give the Haynet Some More Work—Hostilities Recommended at Three Points—Kaiser William Reported in English Politics.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—The extension of forty-eight hours which Prince Alexander gave to King Milan in which to reply to the former's counter proposal of peace expired at noon Thursday. The Serbian king sent no reply to the Bulgarian terms, but definitely broke the truce by renewing hostilities Thursday afternoon. The king's army made simultaneous attacks upon the Bulgarian outposts at Livoz, St. Nicholas and Krivofo. In each case the attacking party was repulsed with considerable slaughter. The Serbian army is now encamped between Nissa and the Timok river, facing the Bulgarian army which occupies a strongly entrenched position between the two rivers, and is only ten miles to the north-west with its left resting on Ploz. The conditions are favorable for a general engagement and it is not improbable that fighting on a large scale will begin at daybreak Friday morning.

Prince Alexander commands his troops in person, but King Milan has been ordered to the front. The king's army is now encamped between Nissa and the Timok river, facing the Bulgarian army which occupies a strongly entrenched position between the two rivers, and is only ten miles to the north-west with its left resting on Ploz. The conditions are favorable for a general engagement and it is not improbable that fighting on a large scale will begin at daybreak Friday morning.

The important fact is reported from Sofia that the Bulgarian population of Bulgaria, therefore as far as possible maintaining a neutral position, has joined in the popular support of Prince Alexander. Large accessions to the army from this source are announced. It is thought that this movement justifies the removal of any month that may have been expected to see the Bulgarian army arrive at the front. The king's army is now encamped between Nissa and the Timok river, facing the Bulgarian army which occupies a strongly entrenched position between the two rivers, and is only ten miles to the north-west with its left resting on Ploz.

The unpopularity of the powers continue their deliberations concerning a settlement by diplomacy of the Balkan question, though no one really believes that such a termination of the affair is possible. The certainty that the situation will not be settled by diplomacy is the result of the fact that the powers are not willing to give up the principle of the conference, and the consciousness of this is the real cause of the delay. The powers are not willing to give up the principle of the conference, and the consciousness of this is the real cause of the delay.

There has been a change in the attitude of Russia in regard to the Balkan question. Mr. Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador, has sent a note to Nihil Pasha, the Turkish minister in St. Petersburg, in which he has expressed his regret that the Russian government is preparing to effectively support Bulgaria.

London, Dec. 11.—One of the most significant developments of the British political situation is the growing certainty that Mr. Gladstone did not feel himself bound in the elections just past to be loyal in all cases to his Radical allegiance. In at least two instances there is proof that he secretly threw his influence on the side of Whig candidates, as against Radicals, and supported by Mr. Chamberlain. An angry letter from Mr. Chamberlain to a friend complaining of Mr. Gladstone's action in this respect, is being handed around at the Reform club, and seems to presage internal dissensions in the Liberal ranks at no distant day. Mr. Gladstone's version of the matter is understood to be that, having honestly striven to secure the withdrawal of duplicate candidates in districts where more than one was in nomination, and having failed to secure any success, he was justified in supporting whichever one of the candidates was deemed by him to be most in accord with the Liberal party's principles.

Illness of Emperor William.

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—A dispatch from Berlin says that Emperor William is suffering from a serious illness. The German embassy here denies that the emperor is in any danger.

Illness of Edmund Dwyer Gray.

DUBLIN, Dec. 11.—Mr. Edmund Dwyer Gray, who has just been elected to parliament for St. Stephens Green division of this city, is seriously ill with rheumatic asthma.

Scattered Along the Track.

WABASH, Ind., Dec. 11.—Andrews, the division headquarters of the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific road, nine miles east of this city, was Thursday morning the scene of a dreadful accident, by which A. Knox, a freight locomotive, was instantly killed. Knox, who was backing along on an outgoing train, in setting brake, slipped and fell between the cars, the wheels crushing his body, grinding it to a pulp and scattering his remains for a considerable distance. The train was stopped as soon as possible, the remains were gathered up, and the co-driver summoned, and at the request a verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered. Knox was 39 years of age, unmarried, and had been employed since 1882 by the Wabash.

A Rain of Little Fishes.

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 11.—During Wednesday night there was a shower of fish at Cumberland. Thursday morning for a radius of a mile or so small fish were found in abundance. The railway station at Cumberland was strewn with them, and passengers on the trains procured handfuls of specimens. Some of them have been brought to this city and placed in the Academy of Natural History. They are about an inch long and have the appearance of young smelt. It is supposed they were taken from the bay in a whirlwind or water-spout, as the wind was very high Wednesday night.

The verdict of the ladies of this city is we have made a critical examination of the various displays in the city, and find that the entire party is led by J. M. Bestwick & Sons. Their display of fashions being very much the latest, and the styles and designs of their real and imitation lace, lace ties and scarfs, silk, linen, and linen lawn handkerchiefs, mufflers, hoods, fascinators, &c., are superior to any we have seen, and on one occasion, all unite in saying "They are entitled to first place!"

—Dance from 8 to 12 at Rules army Saturday night. Tickets 20 cents.

—The ladies of the Congregational church give an oyster supper at the chapel this evening.

—W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., regular semi-monthly meeting this evening at post headquarters.

—The Grand Army veterans and their families will enjoy a social at post headquarters to-morrow evening.

—There were a couple of "accidents" on the east side at a late hour last night. Cause—too much poor whisky.

—Jones Sisters (the midgets) will be at the sink on Thursday evening next, December 17th. Admission 15 cents.

—Bear in mind the 20 cent dance at Rules' army Saturday night. Smith & Corlies' band will furnish the music.

—This evening at the Congregational church an oyster supper will be held for the benefit of the organ fund. All are invited.

—The members of Oriental Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and their families will meet in social reunion this evening at Castle Hall.

—The organ fund benefit at the Congregational church this evening should be well attended. Oysters, tea, coffee and other refreshments will be served.

—People's Lodge No. 450, Independent Order of Good Templars, regular weekly meeting this evening—lodge room in the Court Street M. E. church block.

—A number of Janesville people will go to Beloit this evening to attend the party at the Grand hotel, and shake hands with friend Snyder. Anderson's orchestra furnishes the music.

—The third semi-monthly social will be held at K. P. hall on Friday night, December 11th, at which time the committee are desirous of seeing as many members in attendance as possible.

—The overturning of an oil lamp and the burning of a window curtain in Miss Grant's dressmaking establishment, in the Empire block, North Main street, caused a little excitement at half past four last evening.

—A raffle is to be held on January 1st and who is the lucky man will bear off as a prize the horse which for two years past has drawn the east side horse cart. Tickets are one dollar and are for sale by members of the company.

No man's wardrobe is so complete but what he can always make use of a new pair of pants. They come handy in any well regulated family and at the price Frank Smith is making them to order, the cry of "I can't afford it" don't go.

—Many law-abiding citizens who have already cleaned the snow from their side walks, are now ignoring the reason for allowing the bridge walks to be longer neglected; why the snow ordinance is not enforced. Who will prosecute the city?

—The Jones Sisters will be remembered as the midgets, who were the attraction for three nights on the opening of the rink last March; and as they are one of the finest attractions on the road, they should be greeted with a full house.

—It has been suggested that a bell be hung on the network inside of each goal would save much time in polo games. Last night one of the goal men spent much time looking around for the ball when it was lying safely inside of the cage.

—Miss Addie Reese entertained the Young Ladies' Quilting club at the home of her parents, Ex-Mayor and Mrs. John J. Reese, Cornish street, second ward last evening. A most enjoyable evening was the result of the gathering of young ladies.

—The annual festival of Washington Engine Company No. 1 will take place at the Rules army on Christmas eve, Dec. 24th. The committee is now at work determined to excel all former efforts, and will have a pleasant time with their friends and guests.

—Christmas goods are now being put on the market and J. A. Dennison has an assortment equalled by none. His goods are all fresh and novel, no old stock is for sale, and decorators for Christmas trees should call on him. See his card in another column.

—Harry Webster's Comedy Company open a week's engagement at the opera house on Monday evening, presenting "Nip and Tuck," with a change of program each evening. The company is said to be a good one. Reserved seats now on sale at Proctor & Evenson's drug store.

—The Forrester's dance which is to be held in the Guards' armory December 15th will be one of the most enjoyable affairs for some time to come. The tickets are to be one dollar, which is a very reasonable price when the preparations which have been made to accommodate the guests are considered.

—Many residents of this city who rely wholly upon their cisterns for water supply, finding the supply exhausted just at the beginning of winter, are now the most enthusiastic supporters for the building of water works in the city. Water at a dollar a load is a good argument in favor of the water works proposition.

Those who have been predicting an open winter should accept the situation cheerfully and provide themselves with cold weather comforts at once. If in need of underwear, gloves, a muffler, or fur cap, call at Frank Smith's and you will find a nice line of new goods at bad rock prices.

—Those in search of a first class outfit will bear in mind the grand opening of Harmon Buchholz next week, commencing on Monday. Mr. Buchholz will astonish all with his fine exposition of sleighs, catkins and lap robes. Attend the exposition at the new building, corner of East Milwaukee and Bluff streets, and make your selections.

—One of the handiest and most complete pocket diaries in the market is the Excelsior, for sale at the bookstore of James Sutherland. It is very neatly bound in black morocco with gilt edges, contains many useful tables of information, is of a convenient size to carry in the pocket and makes a very desirable Christmas present.

—The auction sale of the Sol, Tobias jewelry stock, which in progress yesterday came to a sudden halt, occasioned by the appearance of another Chicago creditor, who attempted to serve an attachment but was foisted in the attempt by Col. Boynton in possession, arrangements will probably be made in a day or two to continue the sale.

—The 321 annual dance of Water Witob Engine Co. No. 21 was held last evening at Apollo hall, and was attended by a very large number of young people. Everything passed off in the most pleasant manner, and the dance was kept up until the early hours of the morning. Smith & Corlies orchestra furnished the music, and all were happy.

—The Ladies' Sewing Society, of Trinity Parish, will give a supper at Esther's Cafe on the evening of December 15th. At the same place the Young Ladies' Guild of that parish will open a Christmas market for sale of all sorts of useful and ornamental articles and the combined attractions should insure a good attendance.

—The effort that was made by the Court Street people, to secure the services of the revivalist, Rev. Thomas Harrison, was unsuccessful. The reverend gentleman will visit Oaksham, where his labors are completed in Milwaukee. Special meetings will be continued at Court Street church, conducted by the pastor, to which the public is cordially invited. The meeting this evening will be held in the Sunday school room.

—S. C. Barnham, the jeweler, has been preparing for Christmas, and the result of his labors is shown in the assortment of silverware at his store. It has been selected especially for the holiday trade, and contains many beautiful novelties. There is no better assortment, nor no finer quality of solid and plated ware than that which is shown at his store, opposite the Corn Exchange square, and it will repay anyone to look over the assortment.

—The new cigar store in the new Merrill building on West Milwaukee street is a thing of beauty. The proprietors, Messrs. Wyler & Sullivan have spent much money in this enterprise and the result is a credit to them. Currier, silver and plate glass combine to give the interior a strikingly beautiful appearance, and to render the establishment the most artistic and at the same time the most convenient in the city. At the opening last night a large number of gentlemen were present and sampled the fine goods of the new firm.

AND THEREFORE LOST THE GAME BY A SCORE OF 2 TO 2.

The Racine team came in on the home stretch.

The advantage of experience and staying power was clearly shown in the polo game last night much to the discomfort of the Janesville boys. As the game was not a league contest it will not count against them, but may teach some valuable lessons. At 9:15 stakes were crossed and the fun began. Wyler took the ball away but lost it in a scrimmage and the excited players pressed to and fro from one goal to another, the audience cheering loudly at every clever dodge or good run. Finally, Wyler took the ball again and passed it to Hanson, who, with a clear drive, sent it into the Racine goal. Time, 3 minutes and 20 seconds.

Janesville also won the next point, after Brown and Campbell had made several brilliant stops at the home cage. In winning this goal Sperry made the finest run of the evening. He took the ball from one end of the rink to the other, then gently and without any exertion, poked the ball into the Lakeside's net. Time, 5 minutes and 7 seconds.

Up to this time Griswold, formerly of the academy of the Riversides, had not been at the best, but in the next goal he and his cover point, Rowland, made a number of excellent stops. The visitors finally fought the ball away from their end and by hard pounding at the Janesville cage succeeded in scoring their first point after 10 minutes and 46 seconds of play.

From this on the Riversides went to pieces. They had so far played a very brilliant game, beating at every point, but their strength seemed departed. The Racine boys did just about as they pleased with the ball and the next two goals which were made in four minutes and ten seconds, and six minutes and fifteen seconds respectively, were taken by them without much trouble. After the match was finished the clubs played a few minutes in an exhibition game which resulted in two more points for the Lakesides. Smith, of the visitors, played wonderfully toward the close, and while in the long run Sperry may be a better player yet for a dash Smith is much superior to him. Sperry, of this city, was undoubtedly the best player on the floor and his work around goal was phenomenal.
